Saulo Olmedo Evans is a multi-instrumentalist percussionist from Panama who grew up in Montreal. Between 2005 and 2008, his drums took him on a musical-learning journey following his Latin-American roots: Panama, Cuba, Brazil, and Colombia. Saulo was then seduced by the colours and aesthetics of Indian culture. With renowned master Pandit Ishwar Lal Mishra, Saulo learned to play the tablas in India from 2011 to 2015. Saulo's travels filled his suitcases with rhythms and instruments, with legends, tales and stories he has shared throughout his journey in musical tales he presents. Since his return to Montreal in 2015, Saulo has been involved in various Indian, folk and fusion musical endeavours.
